I started compiling this credit listing over ten years ago. I have always been interested in the factual side of STAR TREK and I used to type out lists of directors, writers, characters, actors etc. I had to get most of my information from fan publications and professional books as this was long before I had a video. Unfortunately I discovered that the books weren't always accurate and it was then that I decided to make my own list of credits from the episodes.

I started doing the listings from the 8mm films and that was very hard work. Then I got the video which made life a lot easier, although as I was running STAG then I didn't have much time to get on with it. What really speeded things up was when I got the computer. I have no hesitation in recommending a computer/wordprocessor to anyone who has to do a lot of writing. In this case, once I had done the credits for one episode, I only had to alter a few of the entries for each subsequent episode.

You will see that the episodes are listed in production order - this seemed the natural order to put them in. I have never understood why most books list them in the order they were first screened in the States - if NBC is anything like the BBC, the order seems to be random. The episodes evolved in the order they were produced. One thing you will find from the production order, but not from the screening order, is that Janice Rand didn't appear after episode 13.

As far as I know this is the only complete collection of credit listings. STAR TREK CONCORDANCE has a partial listing and the STAR TREK CATALOGUE has a listing for each season, but neither lists all the credits for each individual episode.

The listings are as accurate as I can make them and are, word by word, as shown in the episodes. This includes possible spelling mistakes, like Rolland Brooks being spelt 'Roland' in "Enemy Within". I have kept each tv screen separate by leaving a line between them.

Although I've done my best to be accurate, I can't guarantee 100% accuracy. If you do find any errors please write and let me know. Then if I reprint I will list the errors and give you credit. I would ask that if you do think you've found an error you do your best to check a video of the episode. When Sheila proof read this listing she marked what she thought might be errors and when we checked we found that she was wrong almost every time. For instance in 'A Private Little War' the creature is spelt Gumato instead of the more usual Mugato. One of the biggest discrepancies with CONCORDANCE and the CATALOGUE is the actor who plays M'Benga. They have him as Booker Marshall but the credits list him as Booker Bradshaw. Now maybe they know something that I don't, but until I know for sure I'll stick with the credits.

I hope you find this listing useful. I am making it available so that fans, clubs etc. have a listing to refer to without having to check out the episode every time they want info. Please feel free to use it in any way you wish.
